DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

1. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

2. Claims 1-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

For a claim to be statutory under 35 USC 101 the following two conditions must be met:

- 1) In the claim, the practical application of an algorithm or idea result in a useful, concrete, tangible result, AND
- 2) The claim provides a limitation in the technological art that enables a useful, concrete, tangible result.

As to the technology requirement, note MPEP Section iV 2(b). Also note In Re Waldbaum, 173USPQ 430 (CCPA 1972) which teaches “useful arts” is synonymous with “technological arts”. In re Musgrave, 167USPQ 280 (CCPA1970), In re Johnston, 183USPQ 172 (CCPA 1974), and In re Toma, 197USPQ 852 (CCPA 1978), all teach a technological requirements.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being unpatentable over Kinney, Jr. et al. (U.S. 6,564,192).

Kinney, Jr. et al. disclose method of purchasing products and services over a network comprising the steps of:

- submitting a Request for Quotation (RFQ) with at least one attribute over the network (104);
- receiving at least one bid in response to the RFQ over the network, each of the at least one bid having at least one attribute value associated therewith (col.3, line 1-40);
- creating a graphical visual interface based on a Cartesian coordinate system, the graphical user interface showing a relationship in a graphical format between the at least one attribute and the at least one bid and associated attribute value in a single display (fig.6);
- displaying information pertinent to a selected bid of the at least one bid (fig.6);
- wherein the graphical format are sell bid lines representative of selected connected attribute values of the at least one bid (fig.6);
- wherein the information is one of a general information and detailed information related to the at least one bid (fig.6);
- selecting a portion of a selected sell bid line created from connected attribute values of the at least one bid; and retrieving the general or detailed information from a database, the general or detailed information being pertinent to the selected sell bid line (col.3, line 1-col.4, line 53); and
- wherein the retrieved general information is provided in a window adjacent the selected sell bid line (58).
